DANCE CARD CHOICES (Stewardshops)

1. SINGING FOR YOUR SUPPER?

Stewardship preaching can seem like that! Let's talk about what it would mean to preach Stewardship every week. And you can preach sermons that use the "M" work without leaving town? A discussion for those who preach and those who listen to sermons. Presented by Barbara Fullerton, Stewardship Programs and Development, The United Church of Canada

2. A DANCE ALTERNATIVE FOR VISITATION!

Congregations are always asking whether TO DO or NOT TO DO an every member visitation. Is there an alternative? Yes! We will look at the steps involved to implement a very effective alternative: House or Cluster Meetings, designed to create energy, excitement, optimism and synergy in your Congregation. Consider this great way to share Stewardship and ministry priorities while creating momentum for the year. Presented by Brenda Watt, Stewardship Consultant, Calgary, Alberta

3. PLAYING WITH EMERGING WORSHIP

Technology and multi-media, along with an ever changing church landscape, have created opportunities to offer a style of worship that is dynamic, visually stunning, enriching and faith-filled for all ages. No, it is not alternative; no, it is not controversial; and yes, it is United Church! Come and explore a worship experience that inspires a broad spectrum of attendees: newcomers, 30-somethings, seniors, visitors and those from a variety of ethnic backgrounds. Presented by David Drake, Symons Valley United Church, Calgary, Alberta

4. ENVIRONICS AND THE NEW OPPORTUNITY

An emerging post-modern world that is more diverse, more richly contextual and more interconnected is a wave with power to carry the church back to its roots of community connection, engagement, earthy spirituality, justice and witness to the divine in the world. Catching this wave means getting really curious about the world and the communities we serve. This workshop will introduce the Environics Ministry Report and how it might be useful to create truly contextual and responsive stewardship processes in the Congregation and community. Presented by Rob Dalglish, Congregational Renewal and Community Development, The United Church of Canada.

5. BUILDING A PURPOSE

This workshop will be a brief exploration of the theme of building congregational purpose and identity for today, as a first step toward becoming vital and engaged Stewards. The Divine Presence, which is always with us, has created and is creating: this world, this life, this Christian story of faith, and this particular time and place in which we live. Without a sense of purpose and identity out of which to live as God's Stewards for today, Christian Congregations simply end up being curious remnants of a world that no longer exists. Presented by Britt Jessen, Beaumont United Church, Beaumont, Alberta

6. DANCING WITH THE EMERGING SPIRIT: STEPS OF STEWARDSHIP

Explore some of the defining elements at the intersection of church and culture, and how people with little or no church background, think, talk and use their time, talents and money. What is the current context? What are some of the elements present in vibrant Congregations? What is the "new reality" that is taking shape before our eyes? Presented by Lesley Harrison, Emerging Spirit Team, The United Church of Canada

Note: Circle your workshop selections as a record of your choices.
